1.0 Overview

1.1 Mission statement

Education is UNESCO's top priority because it is a basic human right and the foundation for peace and sustainable development. UNESCO is the United Nations' specialized agency for education, providing global and regional leadership to drive progress, strengthening the resilience and capacity of national systems to serve all learners. UNESCO also leads efforts to respond to contemporary global challenges through transformative learning, with special focus on gender equality and Africa across all actions.

The Sector is entrusted to lead and coordinate the Education 2030 Agenda, which is part of a global movement to eradicate poverty through 17 Sustainable Development Goals by 2030. Education, essential to achieve all of these goals, has its own dedicated Goal 4, which aims to "ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all." The Education 2030 Framework for Action provides guidance for the implementation of this ambitious goal and commitments.

1.2 The purpose of these guidelines

UNESCO Education Sector stands for experience, expertise and innovation. Our visual identity reflects who we are and what we do. It should communicate our work and our messages clearly, confidently and with one voice.

These guidelines are designed to enable the creation of materials that can be instantly identified as UNESCO Education products. They are to be used within the overall framework of UNESCO's existing rules and guidelines.

They are to be adhered to by everyone producing external communications products in the Education Sector and, in particular, programme specialists who are responsible for print and digital projects, and the graphic designers who will realize them.

By applying these guidelines in your outreach activities, you will contribute to strengthening UNESCO's and the Education Sector's image and visibility.

1.3 Brand style: Clear, Consistent, Coherent

The guidelines contain core elements that, together, reflect the values at the heart of UNESCO and the Education Sector.

Relevance
To be contemporary, pertinent and a catalyst for solutions to cutting-edge global challenges in education

Globality
Projecting a stimulating and relevant image to a diverse global audience

Integrity
Showcasing steadfast and solid work in providing education for all

Unity
Building and promoting collaboration towards a common goal

Optimism
Speaking with an uplifting, engaging and understandable voice

2.0 Core elements

2.1 The UNESCO logo

The UNESCO logo is to be used on all applications in accordance with the Graphical standards and logo toolkit.

2.2 Using the UNESCO logo on front and back covers

Always position the UNESCO logo top left on the front cover.

Ensure that the image area behind is without contrast or detail, so that the name of the Organization is always legible.

For documents and publications that are solely from the UNESCO Education Sector, use the UNESCO logo with full text on the back cover.

The strip of 17 SDG squares with the SDG Emblem can be shown on the back page in the bottom white area.

2.3 Typography

Myriad Pro is the UNESCO Education Sector typeface to be used in all typography.

This highly readable and adaptable sans serif OpenType font comes in a variety of weights and glyphs and has support for a wide range of languages.

2.4 Colour palette

Our primary colour palette is blue and red.

Our secondary colour palette includes softer colours to counterbalance the boldness of the primary colour palette.

Our supplementary colour palette can be included if a wider range is needed, for example when presenting data.

2.5 Education 2030 symbol

The Education 2030 agenda is part of the Sustainable Development agenda, which consists of 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Education has a dedicated goal, SDG 4, and is present in other goals too. UNESCO, as the sole UN agency mandated to cover all aspects of education, is entrusted to lead and coordinate the Education 2030 agenda with its partners.

Use this Education 2030 symbol on the front cover of all communications from the UNESCO Education Sector.

The symbol is available in UNESCO's 6 official languges.

Education 2030

The Education 2030 symbol is placed within a white strip on the cover of all publications, documents and communications products.

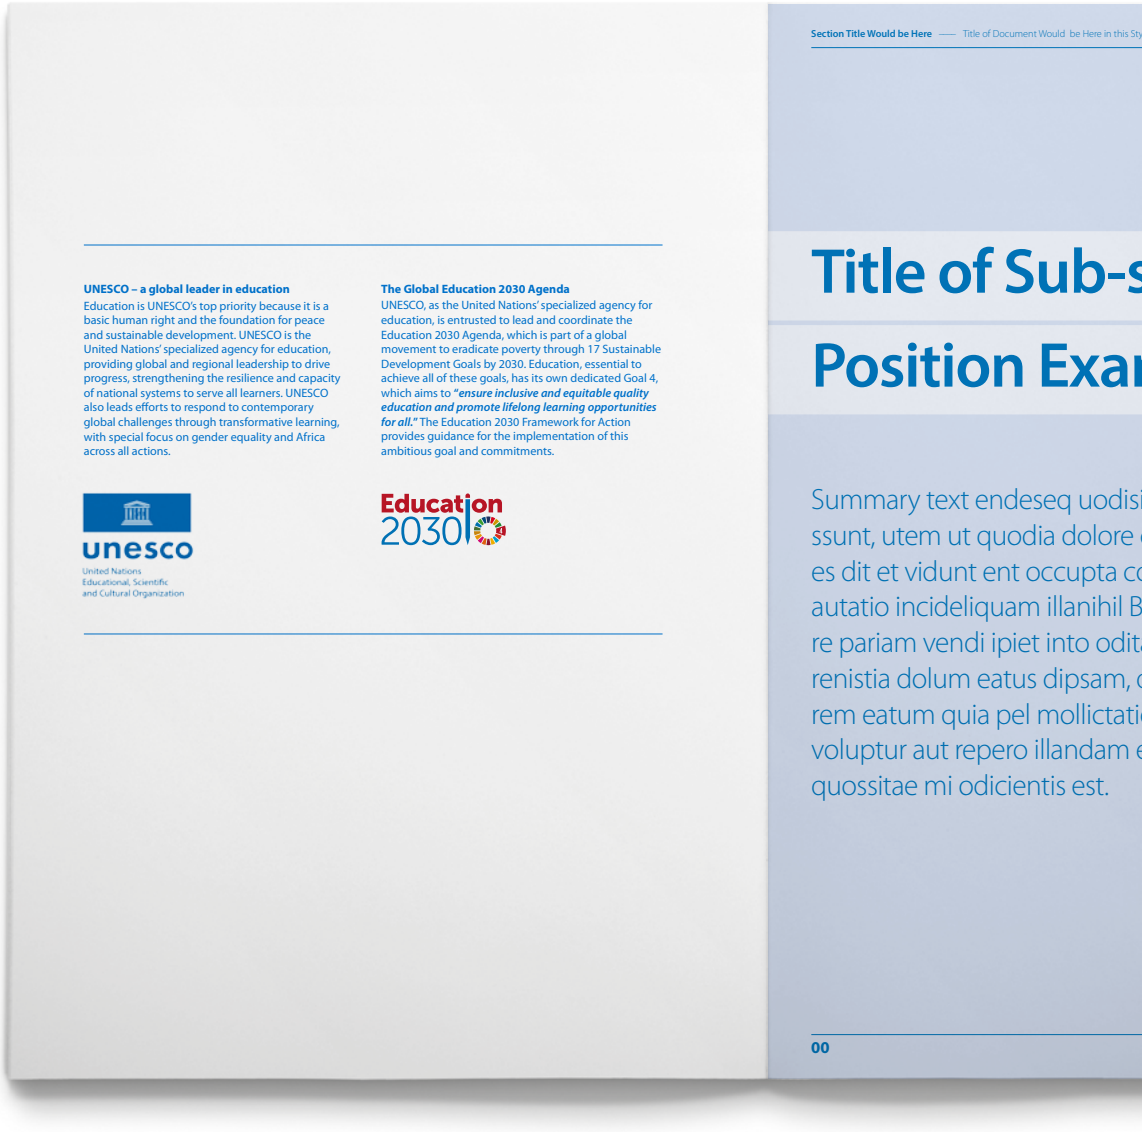

2.6 Introduction 'boiler plate'

UNESCO Education Sector and its leading role in delivering the Global Education 2030 Agenda is emphasized by using the following summary 'boiler plate' text on the inside front of documents, publications and whenever possible, communications materials.

UNESCO – a global leader in education
Education is UNESCO's top priority because it is a basic human right and the foundation for peace and sustainable development. UNESCO is the United Nations' specialized agency for education, providing global and regional leadership to drive progress, strengthening the resilience and capacity of national systems to serve all learners. 2.7 Print sizes

In order to create consistency across the UNESCO Education Sector, the paper sizes shown opposite are always used for publications and documents.

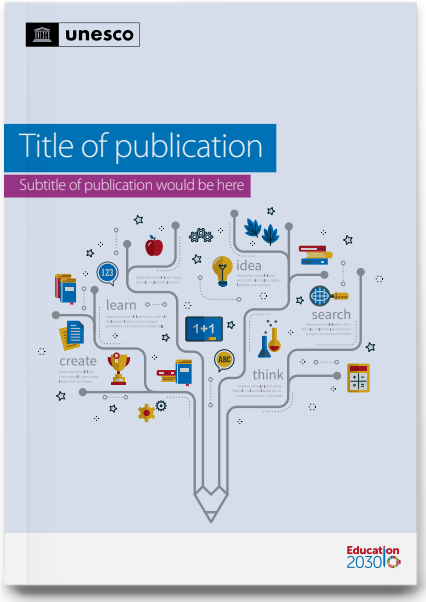

3.0 Using the guidelines

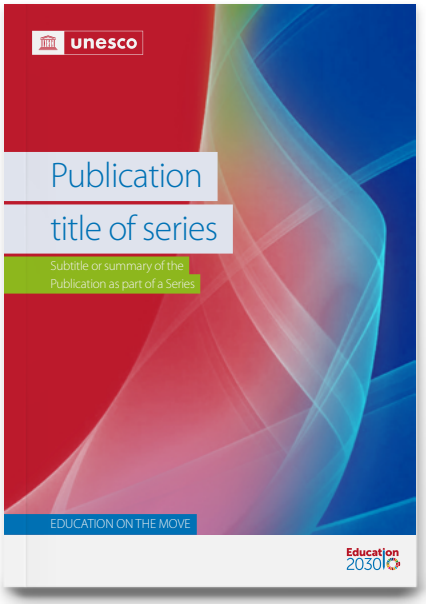

3.1 Front covers overview

These examples show how the visual style can be applied with flexibility to all front covers, from documents through to publications.

3.2 Document front cover layout guide

Title and subtitle/summary text in blocks. Tints of any colour from the palette can be used for the text and the text blocks

Follow the guidance of the Graphical standards and logo toolkit when designing front covers.

Title and supporting text should line up with the left side of the UNESCO logo Temple

Use the Word templates available in the ED branding space for the correct size and position of the UNESCO logo and the Education 2030 symbol within the white strip.

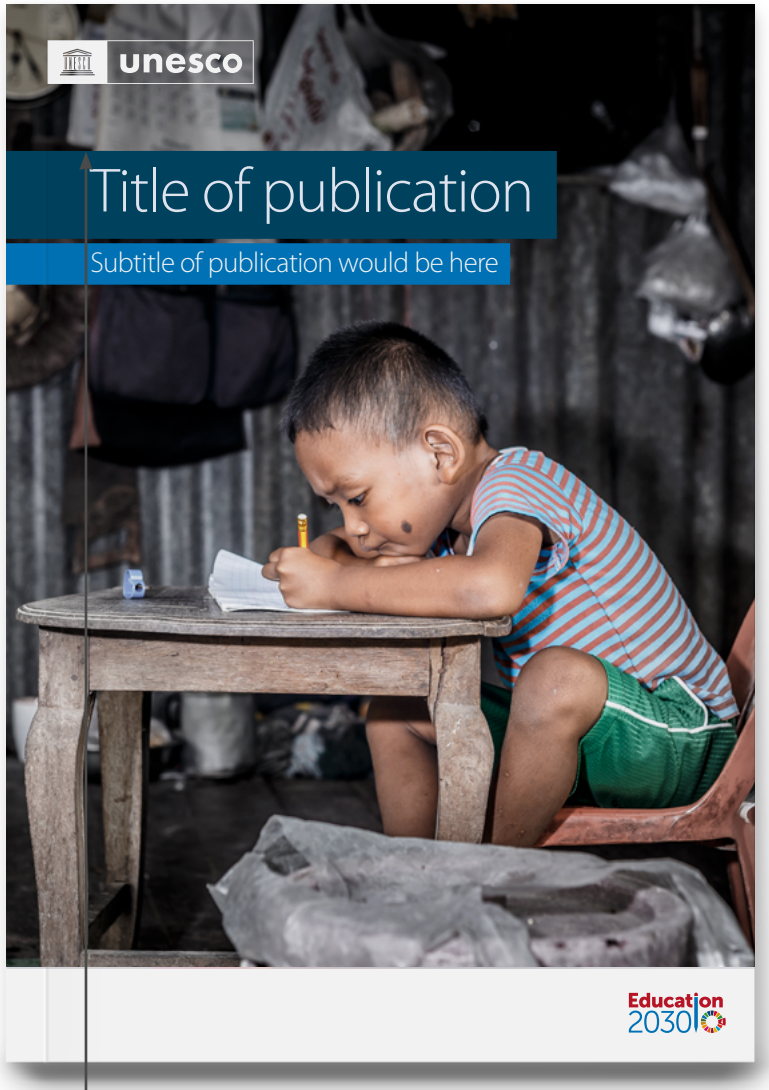

Vertically expandable area for main title, subtitle and summary when needed. For example, when creating documents such as policy briefs, working papers etc.

Clear area for the Education 2030 Symbol

3.3 Publication front cover layout guide

Title and subtitle/summary text in blocks. Tints of any colour from the palette can be used for the text and the text blocks.

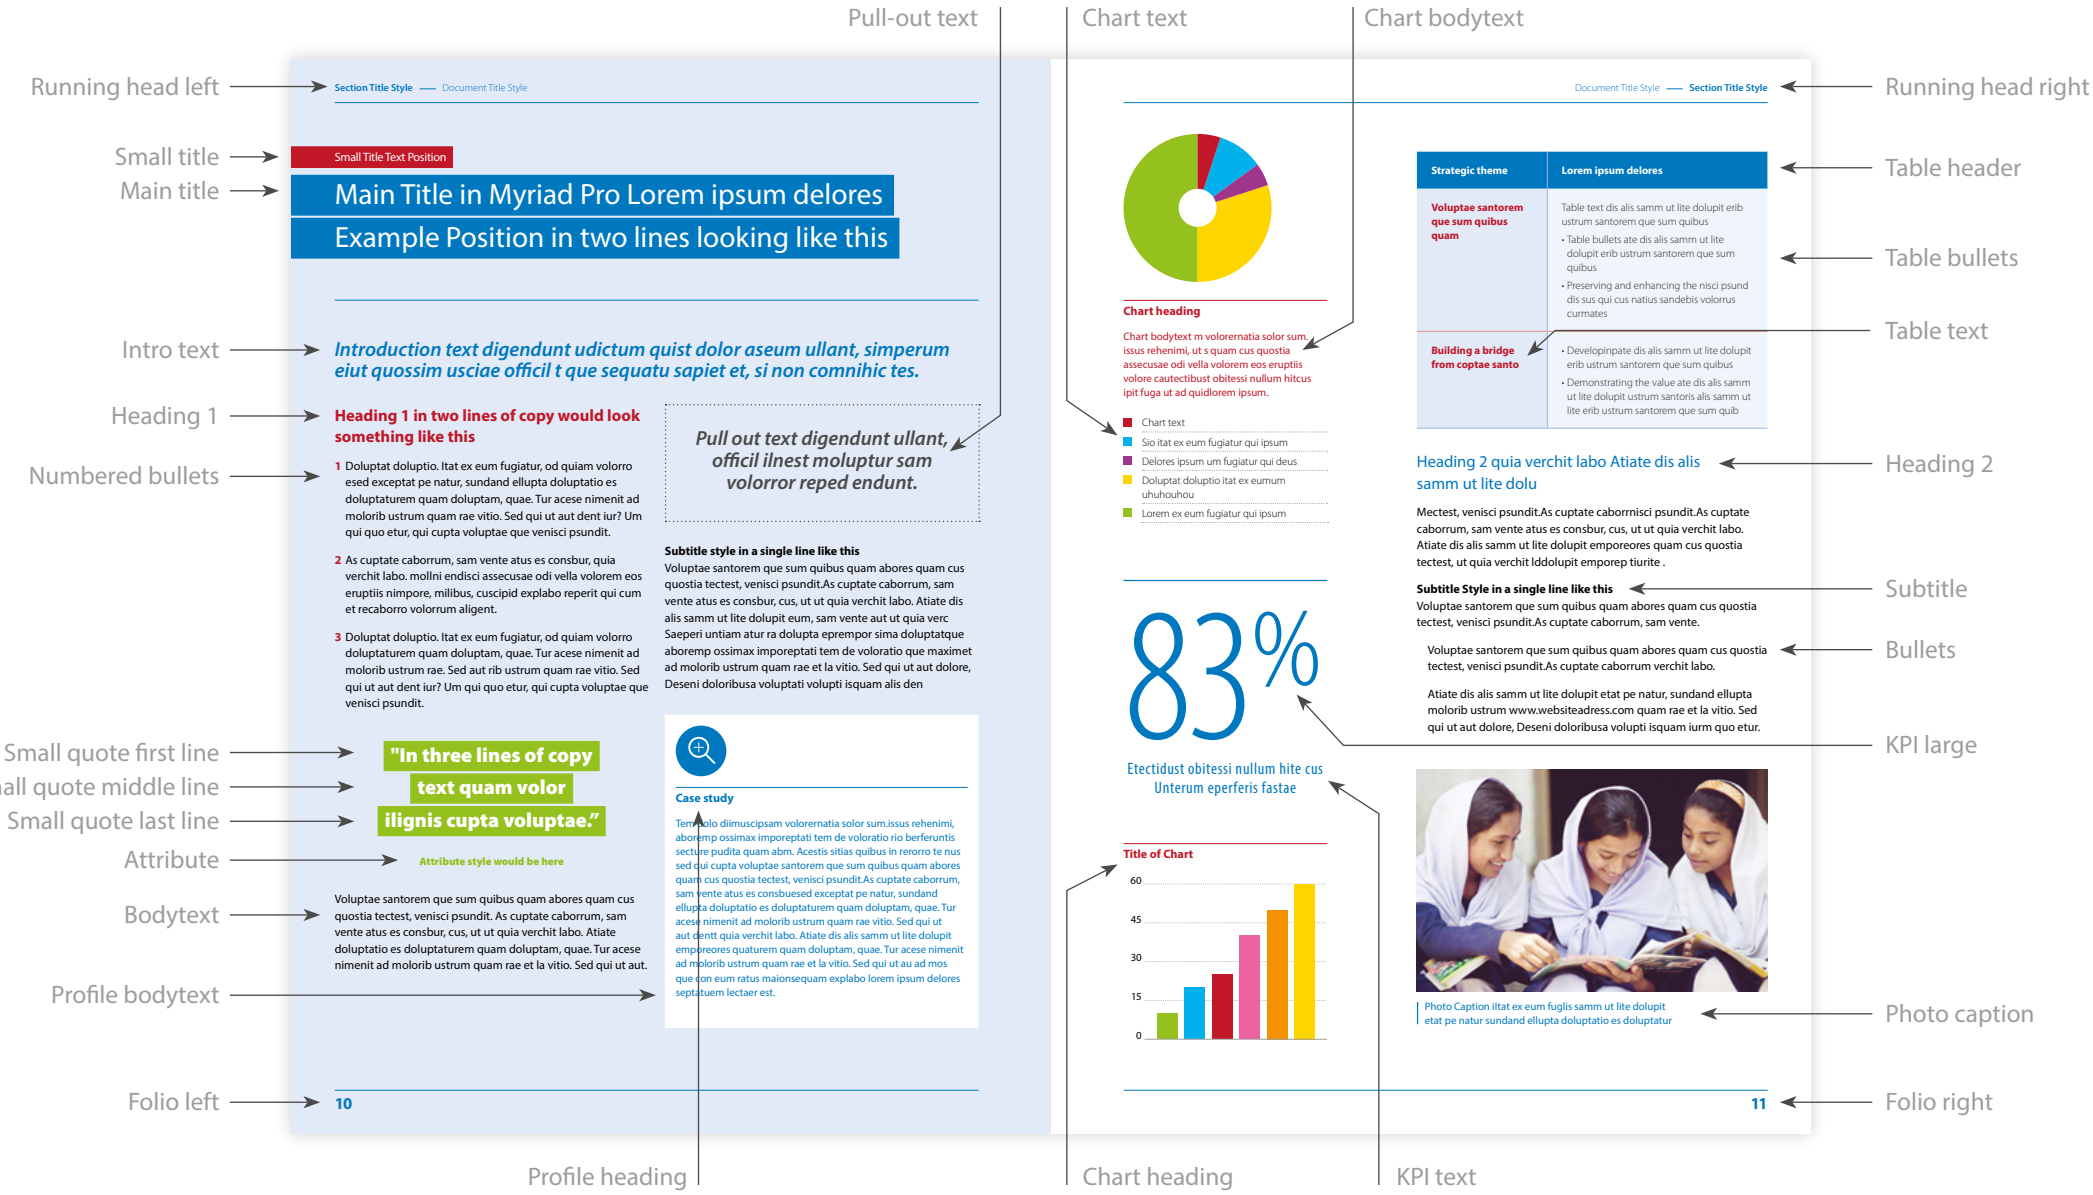

Title and supporting text should line up with the right side of the UNESCO logo Temple if possible.

Use the InDesign templates available in the ED branding space for the correct size and position of the UNESCO logo and the Education 2030 symbol within the white strip.

3.4 Inside layout guide

3.5 Inside pages do's and don'ts

Do not justify text left and right.
This creates different spaces between words making it harder to read

4.7 Social media

Easy-to-use templates for social media will help create appealing visuals (pictures, quote graphics, factographs/infographics and prizes/international days/events) with a consistency in branding that will help leverage the ED Sector's content on digital platforms.

The social media templates are available in the ED branding space.

5.0 Resources

All resources related to the implementation of these visual identity guidelines are available on the Education Sector's intranet: on.unesco.org/ed-branding

5.1 ED multimedia libraries

Three multimedia libraries are available in the ED Intranet, containing hundreds of visual resources to strengthen your communication products and increase the engagement with the audience. The libraries are regularly updated.

The ED photo library includes over 1,000 images on education-related themes from UNESCO's colleagues and external providers. Find the photo you need using the searching tool. All the images can be used in all UNESCO's work without restriction.

The ED video library groups more than 100 videos from the ED Sector divided in different themes. The original files have been uploaded to the platform. Videos are available in several languages.

The ED social media library offers hundreds of ready-made social media cards to use in your social channels. The cards are also divided in different themes to facilitate the searching.
